To,

Dear Sir/Madam

It gives me an immense pleasure to inform you that the Department of Chemistry, Dr. C.V. Raman University is organising a national conference of two days during March, 9-10-2018 on "Advancement & Globalization of Chemical Science for Man, Material & Environment (AGCSMME-18). The conference primarily focuses on the progress in technology and Research towards Chemical Science over the past few decades with advanced scientific chemical literature & developments. In this Conference we are expecting more than 500 delegates, including the Academicians, Scientists and Industrialists from the various parts of the country in the realm of Chemical Sciences.

The meaningful deliberation of the resource persons & the keynote speakers within these two days in the diverse areas of Chemical Sciences will provide a platform & create a huge forum of academic importance for the leading Chemists and Researchers from the Universities & Colleges across the Country.

So, the organising committee of this Conference will be grateful if you can contribute your keen participation & trustworthy cooperation in making this event a great success & bringing out a prestigious conference proceedings (Souvenir).

Hence, we invite you in this conference to grace this event with your august presence & significant participation.

With Regards

(Dr. Manish Upadhyay)
